GHI Board Supports City On Greenbelt Master Plan

by Al Skolnik

The Greenbelt Homes, Inc., board of directors has lined up solidly with city council in support of the College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan with specified exceptions. As the council had previously done, the GHI board at its August 27 meeting opposed a senior high school on parcel 2, endorsed a perimeter road, and expressed reservations about the Golden Triangle zoning and the specific designation of park areas not yet acquired by the city. It also emphasized the benefits of an underpass at the Greenbelt Rd. and Kenilworth Ave. intersection.

The county commissioners will hold a public hearing on the Master Plan on Thursday, September 10, at the Greenbelt Municipal Building. GHI is urging its members to attend and will be sending out circulars.

On the perimeter road, the GHI board expressed concern about the road being near existing homes. It urged that the road follow a route which would provide maximum reasonable distance from the homes. It also recommended that the rights-of-way be limited to 80 feet and that only two lanes be paved. The College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan designates the perimeter road as having 80-100 foot right-of-way.

The GHI position was reached only after some extended discussion. Some members of the board felt that nothing should be done to weaken the effort to assure a perimeter road. David Lange pointed out that the time to secure maximum land for future roads is now - before the land is developed.

Another viewpoint was expressed by Alex Chavrid, who opposed the perimeter road. He said it would only help to support high-density development of parcel 1 and 2. Consequently, he voted against the entire policy position of GHI, though he conceded that he favored the rest of the recommendations. Director Katherine Keene remarked, "This is like throwing out the baby with the dirty bath water."

A middle group on the board, headed by Charles Schwan and Nat Shinderman, felt that the different views could be reconciled by spelling out more precisely the concern of GHI with the perimeter road, and this viewpoint prevailed in the final language.

With regard to the senior high school, the board decided to make clear that while it considered the parcel 2 site entirely unsuitable, it did recognize "that to meet the educational needs of the children of Greenbelt and the surrounding community a senior high school should be located on a suitable site."

Reception Is Planned For Former Residents

One of the highlights of the upcoming Labor Day Festival will be a reception for former residents of Greenbelt. Sponsored by the Golden Age Club, this affair will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, September 5, in the lower level of the new Greenbelt Library.

It is requested that all former Greenbelters register at the Festival Committee Booth, where further information and directions, if needed can be obtained.

Nixon Note Commends Labor Day Festival

In a letter dated August 19 to Congressman Lawrence J. Hogan, who will be parade marshal for the Greenbelt Labor Day festival, President Nixon said, "I hope that you will commend those who take part in this highly motivated observance, and thank them for their role in the work of national prosperity and progress."

GHI Manager Concerned Over Rise In Operating Costs

by Al Skolnik

A favorable six-months financial report for Greenbelt Homes, Inc., was tempered by some sobering remarks by GHI manager Roy Breashears at last Thursday's board meeting. Breashears observed that part of the lower expenditures reported for the first six months of 1970 was due to a late start in certain maintenance programs and that by the end of the year these items will be fully expended.

Furthermore, he did not see any prospects for a drop in heating expenditures, which are running $14,000 over budget so far. The boiler plants have been converted to #2 oil, he said, and experience to date indicates that such oil uses more gallons than the #6 oil. In addition, the price of fuel oil is on the rise.

The corporation is also facing a rise in waste collection charges, which the city hiked in July from $2.50 to $3.25 per unit per month. Breashears was directed by the board to bring in some projections by the September 24 meeting of what the excess of expenditures over estimates might be by the end of the year. He was also asked to review the budget for the rest of the year with a view to affecting economies.

Survey Reports

The board received a series of survey reports from management dealing with the status of sheds, status of maintenance calls, and the effects of the newly-constructed drain laterals on drainage conditions in the townhouses.

The survey of sheds revealed approximately 366 members with illegal sheds throughout GHI, of whom 50 had more than one violation. The types of violation included sheds that needed painting or doors (96), sheds improperly placed (72), sheds exceeding size (44), sheds covering doors or windows (14), and sheds with poor workmanship (16). There were also 95 sheds cited that would need special approval by the corporation. Letters are being sent out to violators.

In a related matter, the board reluctantly refused a request for exception of a shed which exceeded size regulations. However, it expressed appreciation for the members' cooperation and asked management to do whatever it could to affect a solution.

Maintenance Calls

An analysis of maintenance calls revealed a considerable number that are not acted upon promptly but are set aside for future action.

These calls are mainly of a capital outlay nature dealing with gutters, floors, siding, sidewalks, windows, frames, porch roofs, and swales. Management intends to do them as part of the capital improvement program and is thus building up a backlog for contract work.

In many cases, however, the backlog of items has extended over a six-month period. The board asked that individual members with long-awaited requests be notified in mail of the delay. Engineering Superintendent Dave Kane stated that calls which deal with utilities (electricity, plumbing, etc.) have priority and are handled promptly.

Drain Laterals

A survey of the effect of the drain laterals reveals some improvement in drainage conditions in the new townhouses, but management felt that the real test will not come until storm doors are installed for the passageways. The board adopted a recommendation of the maintenance committee that such doors be installed at each end of passageways, with members having an option as to type of door and method of payment.

The board also adopted another recommendation of the maintenance committee that GHI accept responsibility as a long-range project for heavying up the electrical service from the service entrances to the trough. The cost would be about $200 per unit. Pepco has responsibility for bringing the power to the service entrances and members have the responsibility for taking the power from the trough to the units. The capital improvement program has already expended $7,380 for this purpose for eight buildings.

Parking Recommendations

The GHI board accepted a number of parking committee recommendations. It postponed action on a parking request for 15 Laurel Hill until the city completed its reconstruction and pavement work on Laurel. It asked the by-laws See PARKING, p 2, c 3

ARMY STUDIO BAND, CONGRESSMAN HOGAN FEATURED IN FESTIVAL

Two major features of this year's Greenbelt Labor Day Festival will be Congressman Larry Hogan as Parade Marshal and a concert by the renowned U. S. Army Studio Band. The theme of this year's Labor Day Festival is "AMERICANIZATION - UNITY THROUGH COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT."

They will model fashions on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. on the carnival area stage and will wear swim suits at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday at the swimming pool during the aquatic events. The 1970 Miss Greenbelt, her court, and the other contestants will ride in the Labor Day Parade. Prior to the final judging, the girls will meet at Jon's Hair Stylist on Kenilworth Avenue in Riverdale on Sunday, September 6, at 3 p.m. for professional hair styling.

Two names were omitted from last week's list of contestants. They are Janet Lee Whittington, sponsored by Springhill Lake Villa Carry-Out, and Darla Wilkerson, sponsored by Springhill Lake Democratic Club.

Labor Day Pet Show

The evening will feature discussion on campaign issues. Light refreshments will be served.

Candidates for State Central Committee are Barbara Clark, Rhea Cohen, Mitchell Dorsey, Jerome Hancock, Robert E. Jones, Richard D. Livingston, Katherine Manglitz, Henry B. Obermann, Jr., Alexander Reid, Ronald Richards, and Hedda Sybil Sachs. Both Rev. Smith and Mrs. Cohen are Greenbelt residents.

Calling All Turtles

A chance for your turtle to win fame and glory presents itself Saturday, Sept. 5 at 3:30. They will be off and running in the Greenbelt Turtle race, which welcomes turtles of all sizes. Entries should be at Candy Cane City by 3:30—no registration necessary.

A star studded parade, led by Congressman Hogan, will begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, September 7, near North End School. Some of the top paraders will be the 1st U. S. Army Band, the 324th U. S. Army Band, and the crack 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry Drill Team from Ft. Myer, Virginia.

For the kids watching the parade, there will be Ronald McDonald, the lovable clown from McDonalds, Inc., plus a Senator baseball player (not named as yet), who is scheduled to ride in a convertible.

Others featured in the parade will be antique cars, an old horse drawn milk wagon, color guards, fire trucks and equipment, Uncle Sam, majorettes, drum and bugle corps, veterans groups, an old beer truck, Miss Prince Georges County, Miss N.A.S.A., the Krazy Kats, Miss Greenbelt and her court, the Prince Georges County Fire Department Clowns, plus many national, state, and local officials.

Other Festival Features

Scheduled to play in concert in the carnival area immediately after the parade will be the U. S. Army Studio Band. This group has played all over the country and received many accolades for their performances. They span the generation gap, playing hard rock, jazz and sounds of the 70's. Kids as well as adults respond to this 32 piece ensemble with their original and unique arrangements.

Other attractions and events spreading over the four-day fun fest (starting Friday and ending Monday night) will be a contest to determine who will be Miss Greenbelt, a crab feast and political rally sponsored by the P.G. Charter Committee, a pancake breakfast by the Lion's Club on Sunday morning, a bike contest also by the Lion's Club, a talent contest, a beard growing contest, a sack-race, a 3-legged race, a tug-o-war, a baby diaper derby, road races, a watermelon eating contest, a pie eating contest, helicopter rides, a softball tournament, a tennis championship, a horse-shoe contest, a pet show, a fishing rodeo, a reception for former Greenbelters, and all kinds of various other races, shows and contests for young and old, plus plenty to eat and drink.

Booths and Carnival Rides

This year's carnival area will have 34 booths operated by 29 Greenbelt organizations. A variety of food will be sold, including chicken dinners, hamburgers, Bar-B-Q's, pizza, pretzels, and hot dogs. Also, ade drinks, Coca-Cola, iced tea, coffee, and beer will be served. Treats include frozen custard, cake, and sno-cones. Many of the familiar games will be back, in addition to some new ones. Try the nickel pitch, a dart game, the softball pitch, the fish pond, a dip n' win, a ring toss, a glass pitch, the bingo game, or the "throw n' dunk" booth. Rosedale Amusements will operate the rides again this year, with ten-cents-off specials between 1 and 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Several law enforcement agencies will also have exhibits in the carnival area.

All in all, this festival should be the largest and most fun-filled in the sixteen-year history of the Labor Day weekend extravaganza, according to William L. Lawson, this year's overall chairman.

The Committee says, "Stay home in Greenbelt, where it's safer, and have a great time."

CHARTER LITERATURE

Copies of the proposed County Charter, fliers and bumper stickers are available at Twin Pines for distribution to individuals or groups.

Best Interests of All

To the Editor:

During the past few weeks there has been increased citizen concern over the Greenbelt Senior High School. For the first time in my memory, several citizens are speaking out in favor of a senior high school on any site in Greenbelt, even on parcel 2, if need be. Last week we also learned of citizen concern over parcel 15 as a choice. I think this citizen concern and the resulting interaction is good. A healthy discussion of citizen desires on this issue will do us no harm. I am impelled, however, to give an overall perspective to the question.

One year ago, efforts to remove the proposed school from parcel 2 had ceased. The City was resigned to its construction and indeed was negotiating with the school board over various aspects of site planning. The school board had informed the City that it was not their responsibility (the school board's) to improve Landfill road to the school site. "They were in the business of building schools, not roads," they stated.

Early in 1970 the MNCPPC rejected the school board site plan because of inadequate access to the school. At about the same time, WSSC informed the school board that their plans for sewer connections were not feasible, the alternative was prohibitive as to cost, and that the only possibility would be a portable sewage treatment plan for the high school.

These three items: 1) The state of negotiations between City and school board over access roads and sidewalk, 2) the MNCPPC disapproval of school board site plan, and 3) the WSSC recommendation — were the impetus for renewed citizen effort to change what they knew from the beginning was a poor choice. It became increasingly clear that it was not only a poor site, but that a high school could not be built there.

The Save Our Community Committee spearheaded the renewed effort. They informed the citizens of the recent development, they petitioned Council to urge reconsideration, they enlisted varied Greenbelt and countywide support for the effort, they provided much legwork in pushing SJR-81 through the last session of the Maryland Legislature, and more recently they coordinated the successful campaign to convince the County Commissioners to delete funds for the high school from the capital budget.

Bringing us up to the present time, it is precisely the success of these efforts which has generated the latest discussion on the school site choice.

At last City Council meeting, (8/17/70) the Council made a choice for high school on parcel 15, when all they had to do was urge removal of the high school from parcel 2. I argued at the time that this unnecessary and untimely choice by Council would only antagonize certain citizens in the Lakeside area concerned about traffic. The City Council, not known for their adroitness, went ahead and precipitated what might become a divisive element in the upcoming critical period.

What Council should have done was to simply urge removal of the proposed school site from parcel 2 and schedule an early meeting to discuss alternative sites. It was stated at the meeting that the City Manager had collected data on alternative sites. The Council and citizens should have the benefit of this data.

The following actions would serve the best interest of all of

To the Lakeside citizens and Citizens Association. Please do not act rashly to jeopardize the tireless efforts of many to remove the school from parcel 2.

To the City Council. Schedule an early meeting, prior to the Sept. 10th Master Plan Hearing and change your recommendation to simply read remove from parcel 2 and seriously discuss alternative sites in preparation for the Sept. 29 hearing by the School Board. To all Citizens. Please petition the public officials concerned to find a suitable site for a high school in Greenbelt.

On a site served by major arteries both for the convenience of those requiring transportation and to minimize the impact on the existing community;

On a site served by adequate sewer and water facilities. The increasing hazards we face in protecting our environment militate against the use of temporary sewage treatment.

On a site that enhances rather than does harm to the original plan of Greenbelt, so that the school can truly honor the man for which it will be named, in whose administration the planned community of Greenbelt was created.

Nostalgia

To the Editor:

In those early days of Greenbelt there was a wonderful super market called the Co-op that sold everything anyone could want. I remember the bolts and bolts of yard goods, prettier than any seen elsewhere, the counter where we gathered for our morning coffee.

But best of all was the yearly counting of the money that we had spent in that store. Then the management gave what they called a "patronage refund" and for weeks before the deadline the whole community was counting up their receipts. Adding machines were used wherever they could be found and people stood in line waiting their turn to use them. Others counted on their fingers, and the columns were a cinch for any math student.

I have forgotten the amount we all got back in one lump sum. Not much, I'm sure. But the excitement of that time I can still feel!

No other gimmick the store has used since has given so many people the joy that we experienced then. It was just like Christmas!

I don't often wish to live any time over again, but I'd love to see another era of patronage refunds. There is nothing else like it!

METRO IS COMING

Metro is coming to suburbia.

The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority made it official on July 1 by purchasing the first piece of suburban property to be incorporated in the system.

About a quarter-acre of vacant lot near the intersection of Second Avenue and Colesville Road in Silver Spring was acquired.

The property will be part of Metro's Silver Spring Station, due to be completed by mid-1974.

committee, which has been recently organized with Mat Amberg as chairman, to consider by-law changes that might enable the enforcement of GHI parking regulations.

The board agreed to have a $500 preliminary architectural study made of the corporation's maintenance and administrative facilities with a view to enlarging the present facilities on Hamilton Pl. The board hopes to receive a report giving cost estimates for plans by budget time.

The board voted to engage a new carrier — Mass Mutual — for its employee hospitalization and major medical coverage, subject to approval of the employees. An attractive feature is a guarantee of rates for 27 months.

The board voted to donate $60 to the Labor Day Festival, part of which would be for sponsorship of a Festival Queen. Director Katherine Keene opposed on grounds that the Festival Queen Contest extols the wrong attributes of women. Director Tom White disagreed, saying that the Contest was intended to judge the various qualifications of contestants and that the sponsors were interested in well-rounded individuals. GHI president Nat Shinderman hurriedly ended the discussion by saying he didn't want to enlarge upon the topic.

The next meeting of the GHI board will be on Thursday, September 17.

City Notes

The base course of pavement for Gentry Drive was laid on Saturday, August 29, and for the block of Southway Rd. between Crescent and Ridge on the following Monday. Both jobs were performed by Contee Sand & Gravel Co. Telephone linemen also began work on Monday to relocate utility poles south of Ridge so that that section of Southway could also be prepared for paving. As soon as the base pavement was laid down, Southway was reopened to traffic.

In the meantime carnival equipment was arriving for the Labor Day Festival weekend. The Public Works crew's major activity was getting things ready for the festivities — doing advanced wiring for the carnival, constructing and setting up booths, and putting fencing in place near Candy Cane City for special events of the weekend.

Candy Cane City had never looked nicer, city officials noted. The point-up job there was done by the local Jaycees during the last week of August.

Recently the director of public works and the city manager made a survey of concrete work throughout the city, marking with orange arrows any sections which required replacement. The actual replacement period may take up to two or three years, the city announced, with the most damaged sections receiving first priority.

The sidewalk between the lake parking lot and the Municipal Services Bldg. is complete, except for a stairway to ascend the steep bank. On August 31 the city crew laid sod on the bank slopes. Earlier they had seeded the newly graded area over the storm sewers at the bay end of the lake. Another crew graveled shoulders of Crescent Rd. near the fire station.

The Parks crew trimmed the hedge alongside the Coop supermarket and sprayed for poison ivy throughout the city.

The gymnasium floor at the Youth Center has been refinished and the room reopened for use.

Stroot-Falter

Mrs. Vera Stroot of Wichita, Kansas announces the engagement of her daughter, Louise Janette, to Lieutenant Ronald Richard Falter, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Falter of Greenbelt. Miss Stroot is the daughter of the late Mr. Peter Stroot.

An October wedding is planned.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Approximately 12,000 Prince Georges County senior high school students are expected to enroll in the driver education program this coming 1970-1971 school year, compared with 11,000 last year, according to Harry E. Bowman, Supervisor of Driver Education for the County public schools.

A new driving range at the University of Maryland makes possible the first four-phase high school driver education program in the state of Maryland. Students of Parkdale and Northwestern Senior High Schools will use it for one phase, along with the other three phases of classroom study, simulation, and on-the-road behind-the-wheel training.

Maryland law stipulates that in order to obtain a driver's license all Maryland residents under 18 years of age must complete a state approved driver education course. Students enrolled in such a course in the schools must be at least 15 years, 6 months old.

Greenbelt Grab-bag

by Punchin' Judy

In the smallest room of our house, I recently leafed idly through a copy of a popular digest magazine. The humorous anecdotes, as usual, were rather amusing and faintly familiar. There was the customary article entitled something like "The Enemy Within," which warned of unsuspected dangers lurking in the Government. I skipped the article on inflation, but browsed through a couple of stories favoring and condemning certain drugs and medications.

All in all, it seemed an ordinary issue, and I tackled "We Live in a Slum," with no premonition that this would be no typical ghetto story.

Well, wow! Here was a graduate student and his wife, having to live on a tiny income, who decided their housing dollar would go farthest in a slum neighborhood. And what a dream of a slum! Everybody was dreadfully poor, naturally, but so happy, so clean, so honest, so uncomplaining. Sunshine streamed through the cracked but shiny windows of the well-scrubbed tenement house. Polite little children skipped happily to school in their well-darned clothes and brought home glorious report cards to their loving, forever-afterly wedded parents.

I never thought there was any place I would rather live than Greenbelt, but I admit I was tempted to move, especially when I found out that the rent in this Eden was $5 a month. But every Paradise has its serpent. This one was on the front cover of the magazine, and it showed the date to be 1939!

Regretfully, I must admit that I can remember 1939, and, though I daresay there might have been $5 apartments, I don't recall quite that much sweetness and light abounding in those days.

Armed with my new knowledge, I now went on to the new invention articles. Here were wonders indeed! A device which could detect aircraft by registering waves; a machine which recorded sound on tape; a mass-produced instrument which could receive televised pictures in the home. But my very favorite was a suit of clothing for men called a "slack suit." This washable two-piece garment, in daring shades of tan and light blue, was predicted to free men from the tyranny of dark wool suits in the summer.

That was 1939, my friends; not a very good year really, but it was great fun realizing how much has changed since then and how much has stayed the same.

Hey, do you suppose those casual clothes for men will really catch on?

Orchestra Openings For String Sections

The Prince Georges Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Emerson Head, will begin its regular fall rehearsal schedule on September 16 at Parkdale Senior High School. Applications are now being received to fill vacancies in the string sections of the Orchestra.

The Orchestra rehearses every Wednesday evening from 7:30 p.m. until 10 at Parkdale Senior High School, 6001 Good Luck Road, Riverdale. All interested string players should call the Prince Georges Recreation Department, 277-2200, ext. 323, for further information.

The Orchestra begins its 7th season with a full schedule of five concerts. Two special features for the 1970-71 season are an all-Bethoven Concert in November and an Opera Production in January.

Mandatory Dedication Benefits Taxpayers

The first results of the "Mandatory Dedication or Fee-In-Lieu of Dedication" amendment to the Subdivision Regulations were reaped by Prince Georges County taxpayers during the month of August as the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission received $3,069 to be used for park acquisition and 19,000 square feet of land to be used as parkland.

Signed into law in April by the Prince Georges County Board of Commissioners, the Fee-In-Lieu of Dedication Subdivision Amendment requires that in all single-family subdivision cases, five percent of the land to be subdivided has to be set aside for park purposes. In multiple-family subdivisions ten percent of the land is required to be dedicated to serve the residents of the area.

If, after review of the subdivision, it is determined by the Prince Georges County Planning Board that dedication of the parkland is not desirable, a fee equal to five percent of the assessed valuation of the land being subdivided is required in lieu of the dedication.

It is anticipated that over a period of years the fee-in-lieu of dedication amendment to the Subdivision Regulations will be a valuable tool for adding substantial acreage to parkland in Prince Georges County.

Schools Will Offer Rubella Immunization

As part of the 1970-71 Health Services program of the Prince Georges County Public Schools, rubella immunization will be provided for all children from ages 1 to 12 who have not already had it.

The free immunization will be done in the schools, probably in October. This is the first time such a service will be offered in the County for children aged 1 to 4. Children in the 5-to-12 age range, who were not given the shot last January or May will have the opportunity to get it in October. Again the schools will cooperate with County, State Health Depts.

Long Distance Races

Nationally-ranked long distance runners from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Virginia and the Baltimore area, including about a dozen Greenbelters, are expected to vie for 20 trophies in the featured 15 Kilo (9.3 mile) race around Greenbelt and through the Agriculture Farm. The race will begin about 5:45 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 6 at the tennis courts at Braden Field. Course record holder, Bob Scharf, of the Washington Sports Club, will be out for his course record of 46:15, set in 1967.

A 2-mile Run-for-Your-Life Race will be held at 5 p.m., starting at the tennis courts and going once around the lake. This race is for the inexperienced runner, the jogger, and those in shape to run the distance but with time not important. All Greenbelt entrants who finish will receive trophies. A small entry fee is charged and instructions will be given one hour before the start of the races.

An added feature is an age group one-mile race, starting at 4 p.m., for children under 9, 10-11, and 12-13, sponsored by the D. C. Road Runners, who hold such races frequently. Information from Larry Noel, 474-9362.

Art Exhibit at Twin Pines

There will be a special Labor Day Festival Art Exhibition of paintings and sketches by Jack Dillinger at Twin Pines Friday evening through Monday.

The public is invited to an informal reception with refreshments Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. and to viewing periods Friday evening until 8 p.m., Saturday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Monday from noon to 3 p.m. All work will be for sale.

Dillinger teaches in the University of Maryland Art Department and is well known in the area as an artist and former teacher of Art Guild and Springhill Lake art classes. His work has been shown at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Baltimore Museum of Art, the Smithsonian Peale Museum, and in Sweden. Dillinger will also be the judge of the Children's Art Show on Sunday.

BISHOP METHOD SEWING CLASSES

An Introduction to the Bishop Method of Clothing Construction, a basic sewing course, sponsored by the Prince Georges County Board of Education, will be given at the Greenbelt Co-op Hospitality Center. The first class will be Thursday, September 17, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. To register and for further information, call 937-2229.

Also to be offered at the Center will be Advanced Dressmaking. A lined dress and a lined, underlined jacket will be constructed. Prerequisites for this course are Bishop Method Dressmaking I and Basic. It will be held on Wednesday mornings, 9:30-11:30, beginning September 16. To register and for further information call 474-8575 evenings.

Karate Demonstration

On Sunday, September 6, at 6 p.m. Jay Holt will give a demonstration of the Art of Korean Karate with the assistance of his students. He is Head Instructor at the Jhoon Rhee Institute of Tae Kwon Do in Bowie.

Holt has been studying and teaching the art regularly for the past twelve years and was the 1963 Midwest Karate Champion. His experiences include assisting in the instruction of the Special Guard of the Strategic Air Command Headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska, and a demonstration for Miss Patricia Nixon on the White House lawn in conjunction with the "Summer in the Parks" program.

The demonstration will include techniques such as the Basic Art Forms and Self Defense for women by his wife Pamela, who is a Gold Belt with only three months training. Also included will be Tournament Fighting techniques, defense against multiple attacks, and breaking of boards and cinder blocks. Wayne Booth, recently promoted to Black Belt, will demonstrate a fantastic aerial breaking technique after jumping over five persons. Holt emphasizes that the breaking techniques are simply to show the power and speed obtainable through learning and applying the most important factor in Karate - concentration and control of the mind. "Contrary to popular belief breaking is not what Karate is all about."

The highlight of the demonstration will be defenses against knife attacks given by Holt with the assistance of his brother, John Holt, who is presently a Green Belt. He will also show how an ordinary belt and the controversial Ko-Budo Nunchucka are used as effective defensive weapons.

A drawing will be held after the demonstration for a free introductory course, which includes three lessons, a uniform and patch, and a carrying bag.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Hennessy, 16-Y Ridge, on the occasion of their fortieth wedding anniversary. Thirty year residents of Greenbelt, they were feted at a party at the Harbor House, given by their two daughters and two sons. Among those who enjoyed the party and a trip around the harbor were their ten grandchildren, Mrs. Theresa Whittaker (Mrs. Hennessy's sister) and Mrs. Whittaker's granddaughter, Marie Salerno. The Hennessy's, who toured the New England countryside several weeks ago, had a pleasant stay at Mrs. Whittaker's home in Dorchester, Mass.

Arlene Dortch, 5831 Cherrywood, was recently named to the Dean's list for the spring season at Hofstra University in Hempstead, New York.

The 1970 Summer Session graduation list released by Washington State University includes the name of James A. Grant, Greenbelt, M.A. in Economics.

Mrs. Annie MacGregor is now making her home with her son and daughter-in-law in Florida. The MacGregors were one of the first families in Greenbelt, and her late husband, Angus, did all of the original landscaping in our town. Mrs. MacGregor would enjoy hearing from her friends here. Her address is: 151 N. Orlando Avenue, Lake Killarney Apts. #149, Winter Park, Florida 32789.

Mrs. Carrie Hall is back home after spending two months camping with her daughter and son-in-law in Toronto, Canada.

Sorry to hear that former resident, Mrs. J. B. (Joy) Peeler, passed away on July 5 after a short illness. Surviving are her husband and her son, Tim, of Amherst, Virginia.

Lieutenant Colonel Raymond E. Smith, MSC, of Greenbelt, has recently been selected as Assistant Chief of the Personnel Services Division in the Army Surgeon General's Directorate of Personnel and Training.

M&J WINS OVER GREENBELT SHELL

The final two innings in the Men's "AA" League Championship game were played with M & J capturing the City Championship after splitting one game each. The third game was abandoned after four and half innings with a tie score 4-4. Play resumed on the 30th with M&J scoring two runs in bottom of the fifth and five more runs in the bottom of the sixth. Greenbelt Shell scored two runs in the top of the seventh and ended up losing 6 - 11. Brisco contributed to M&J by knocking a home run while two men were on bases.

In other softball events on the 30th the Lakewood Tigers defeated the Springhill Lakers for the "A" Tournament Championship; Springhill Lakers were the runner up. The following evening the Greenbelt Jaycees defeated the Post Office for the "A" League Runner Up Title. Make-up games that evening completed all play in both Men's Leagues.

Home teams Columbia Plano-graph and M&J remain in the winners bracket of the County Sectional Tournament. Winner of the sixteen teams in this Tournament will accompany Greenbelt Shell as representative to the Washington defending champion. Greenbelt Shell's first game will take place Friday at Cabin John Regional Park.

Hospital Needs Nurses

An intensified Nursing Recruitment Program is being conducted by Prince Georges General Hospital at Cheverly Md. to hire additional nurses to meet staffing needs for the expanded Medical Center Complex.

The additional hospital beds added this year and the consistent high census rate have contributed to the need for increasing the nursing staff.

A special effort is being made to recruit Operating Room nurses to meet an expanded surgical schedule. Plans are underway for the expansion of the Operating Room Suite and Intensive Care Units, as well as the establishment of additional specialized care services.
